What is a grant?

- Grants are funds given out by private, public and not-for-profit organisations for a range of purposes.
- Grants are always for discrete, stand-alone projects with a beginning, end and clear outcomes from the project. “Business as usual” is ineligible expenditure.
- They are not for ongoing running costs of an organisation, such as permanent staff costs, rent and utilities. You can use grant funding for these costs but ONLY if they relate to the current project you are doing.
- Grants are not retrospective, which means that you cannot get grant funds to reimburse you for a project already completed or work already started.

What is the purpose of a grant?

To achieve government policy objectives

To implement election or government promises

To promote new ways of doing things

To improve public infrastructure

To preserve historical buildings

To recognise service

To help with research and development

To encourage new businesses

To stimulate economy

To create jobs

To assist or enrich the community

To support disadvantaged people

To alleviate adverse circumstances (drought, fire...)

To support the Arts, sports, multiculturalism...

Found a grant?

Read the guidelines and FAQs at least twice!!

Are you eligible? Grant writing is hard work. Do not apply if you are not eligible.

When does it close? Do not leave to the last minute, it will take longer to write than you think.

Most applications are online. Copy questions on a Word document to work out your answers.

If the application specifies 400 words, do not try for more.

Look at previously successful grants for inspiration and how to frame your project.

Golden rules

- Answer ALL the questions
- Read the questions carefully and answer accordingly
- Do not answer a question with “as previously stated or as above”
- Do not repeat the same thing twice
- Research and quote strategic plans
- Make sure your facts are right
- Do not pad your budget
- Whenever possible make a cash and in-kind contribution
- If successful, you need to implement the EXACT project you described in your application
- If you need to change project or timeline, negotiate with the granting body
- Complete contracts and acquittals on time
- Do not start works prior to signing the contract

What is a project plan?

- A description of your project
- How your project will be undertaken
- A budget outlining all costs
- A timeline of when key deliverables will be achieved
- An evaluation of how you will measure the success of your project

The boring bits

- If you are registered for GST, your budget should NOT include GST. If you are not registered for GST, your project SHOULD include GST.
- Make sure your application is grammatically correct without spelling mistakes.
- Do not use acronyms unless you have defined them once: Regional Development Australia Yorke and Mid North (RDA Yorke and Mid North).
- Do not assume the evaluation panel knows anything about your town, your club or your project. Spell it out in plain English.
- Do not trust Wikipedia!

Support letters

- Do not provide a proforma unless specifically requested or a template is given by the grant .
- Explain the project, if possible, face to face or via a phone call to convey how important it is.

- Provide a brief of the project including objectives, brief description and amount required.
- At least two weeks' notice.

Always contact the letter writer to let them know about the result of the grant and to thank them for their letter

To AI or not to AI

Do not write a grant using AI. It is obvious and will be discarded.

Moderation is key. It can help you finish a paragraph or provide some inspiration.

Double check anything AI generated.

If you are passionate about your project, your own words will convey it best.

Example of a good grant

We are seeking funds to install a new kitchen in our clubrooms.

The Graceville Netball Club is an old club and a great club. Established in 1932, the club plays host to more than 200 competitors every weekend from the tiniest Net Set Go participant to former Vixens stars in our seniors' ranks. We are a community club and we are growing as our community grows.

Situated in coastal South Australia, Graceville has always been a destination for tourists and is now sought after by those looking for a tree change. Our Club wants to provide a welcoming and inclusive environment for the new families in town, a community destination for all ages and genders and a catalyst for increased participation in sport.

A significant obstacle to our mission is our kitchen. Built in the 1980s, our kitchen is cramped, hot, potentially unsafe and in dire need of an upgrade. In addition to feeding the hungry hordes and increasing safety for our volunteers, an upgraded kitchen will also allow us to improve our facility hire revenue stream. A new kitchen will help us attract new players, volunteers and supporters.
